VISION

Dear Friends,

Welcome to Doing Good Together's 2022 Festival of Giving! This event provides a unique opportunity to celebrate all the big-hearted actions your family takes while inspiring you to even more kindness.

The research is clear that lessons on engagement, compassion, and caring can have a powerful effect on kids, especially when we start young. In fact, studies also show that children who grow up "giving back" are much more likely to be volunteers, activists, and engaged citizens when they become adults.

This year's event kicks off with music - featuring Dan Saks of the Noodle Loaf Podcast - to remind us of the delight we can find in kindness and the joy of a big-hearted community. We then hope your family extends the Festival for the next week, together picking an activity to try each day.

Once the week has ended, and you've celebrated all you've accomplished, encourage your children to come up with ideas for other ways to make a difference. Know that by making kindness part of your family routine you are contributing not only to building a stronger community but also to raising a generation of caring, compassionate citizens.

Have a wonderful time!

Warmly,

MIALISA MCFARLANE MILLARES
Executive Director

P.S. Please share your kind works on social media using the hashtags #doinggoodtogether and #festivalofgiving2022!

ABOUT DOING GOOD TOGETHER™ (DGT™)

Doing Good Together™ (DoingGoodTogether.org) is a national nonprofit that empowers families to raise compassionate, engaged children by providing opportunities for them to practice kindness and serve others. DGT's goal is to help make empathy and "giving back" a natural part of life's early lessons.

Through creative partnerships and committed donor support, Doing Good Together offers a wide array of innovative activities and research-based resources to families, schools, and youth groups around the country interested in inspiring the next generation to live generously.

DIY Kindness Cards

for Community Acts of Kindness

- Print, decorate, and cut apart your 8 Kindness Cards & 4 Checklists
- Gather them in a sandwich bag or a 3x5 library card pocket.
- Leave one behind any time you perform acts of anonymous kindness.

Neighborhood Kindness

- Write a compliment on your card. Leave it for a neighbor to find.
- Leave an encouraging note in chalk in your neighborhood.
- Create a bouquet of wildflowers and leave them on a neighbor's doorstep.

Kindness for Community Helpers

Bake a sweet treat, create a wildflower bouquet, or write a thank you note with your kindness card for:

- your mail carrier,
- your garbage truck driver,
- your librarian, and
- any others you want to celebrate.

Bookish Kindness

- Write/draw a book recommendation on the back of your card and leave it in your favorite library book.
- Leave a copy of your favorite book - along with a card - in a hospital's waiting room.
- Stock a half-filled Little Free Library with books you've outgrown.

Road Trip Kindness

- Pay for the person behind you in the drive-through.
- Draw a picture or write an inspiring quote to leave on a parked car's window.
- Leave quarters at a vending machine.
- Thank your server on the back of a kindness card and leave a nice tip or small gift.

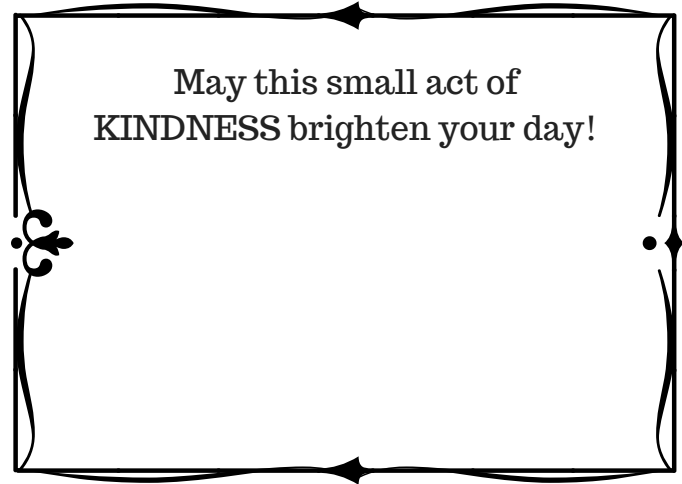

May this
Small Act of Kindness
brighten your day!

3 Ways to Use Music for Kindness

- Surprise a loved one who might need some cheer with an impromptu family concert, either in person or over FaceTime or Zoom. Or record and send a single song.
- Use the lyrics of your favorite song in creating a card to share messages of joy or gratitude with someone. If you can't think of someone, write to an elder through Love for our Elders.
- Listen to DGT's collection of Big-Hearted songs – then create your own list of uplifting music to inspire your family and to share.

Celebrate Kindness B-I-N-G-O

1. Mark off activities you've done as a family in the past year.
2. If you didn't have five in a row, can you aim for that?
3. After you get five in a row, keep going! Can you complete every square?

Shared a compliment with someone	Called or sent a note to a relative or friend to make them smile.	Participated in a school or community food drive	Participated in a run or walk for charity	Donated money at a free museum or zoo
Made or served a meal for hunger relief	Picked up trash around your neighborhood or at a nearby park	Paid for dinner or a snack for someone else.	Donated food to a local food pantry	Shared a "helping" coupon book with someone.
Had a conversation with one another about the value of generosity.	Donated money from your allowance or as a family		Mailed a card to cheer a stranger	Brought a gift to someone having a tough day.
Wrote a thank you to a community helper	Made a gift for a friend or neighbor	Asked for a donation for a favorite charity.	Donated toys and clothes you no longer use.	Left art in your neighborhood. (Sidewalk chalk art, painted stones, colorful origami)
Taught someone else a new skill	Read a book where the character acted with generosity.	Left a great book (or several) in a Little Free Library.	Used your unique skills to brighten someone's day	Offered to help out a neighbor for free

Never underestimate
the power of a random

"What Sustains Us" A Community Walk in Crown Heights for Families

Repair the World

Date/Time: Sunday May 2, 1 - 2:30pm

Location: We will begin together in Brower Park

Ages: Families with children age five and older are welcome to participate

Time Commitment: One and one-half hours

Join Repair the World for a community walk where we learn about and serve alongside food justice leaders in our neighborhood. We'll see where to gain access to free food and have a chance to visit a community fridge and a community garden in the neighborhood. Our highlighted stop will be Repair the World's workshop, where we will celebrate our new public art installment, "What Sustains Us" created by artist Hillel Smith.
